Nigeria we hail thee,
Our own dear native land,
Though tribe and tongue may differ,
In brotherhood, we stand,
Nigerians all, and proud to serve
Our sovereign Motherland.

This policy provides the foundation for our quality objectives and reflects our unwavering dedication to operational excellence, professional relevance, and national development.

BRIEF HISTORY OF NSE

INTRODUCTION

Founded in 1958, The Nigerian Society of Engineers (NSE) is the umbrella organization for the Engineering Profession in Nigeria. Like some of its counterparts in other professions, the Society has distinguished itself through progressive and imaginative programmes to become the avenue for true professional development of its members as well as the technological development of the country.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Society is to promote the advancement of Engineering Education, Research and Practice in all its ramifications. Naturally, this is with a view to maintaining and enhancing the professional capabilities of its members so as to better equip them to fulfil the needs of the profession for the good of the public and the nation.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership is open to all who possess qualifications that are accredited by the Council for the Regulation of Engineering in Nigeria (COREN), under the provisions of Engineering Registration Decree (No. 55) of 1970 or such amendments thereof irrespective of race, tribe or religion. There are seven grades of membership - Fellow, Corporate, Associate, Graduate, Student, Corporate Firm and Honorary Fellow.

ORGANIZATION

The highest policy making body is the Council which comprises elected National Executive Members, Branch/Division Chairmen, Representatives of other Engineering Bodies/Institutions and some nominated Active Corporate Members. The President is the Head of Council. Overall coordination of the Society's activities is carried out from the Secretariat currently housed at the National Engineering Centre, Abuja. The Society also has a Liaison Office at the National Engineering Centre, Lagos. A full-time Executive Secretary heads the Secretariat.

DIVISIONS

As an umbrella organization, all the disciplines of the profession as currently practiced in the country are duly catered for. The various disciplines are organized as Divisions of the Society to enhance individual career development. Currently, the Society has twenty-five (25) professional Divisions.

BRANCHES

The Society is also organized into Branches based in various cities around the country to cater for the local activities of the members. The following 94 Branches are in existence: Aba, Abak, Abakaliki, Abeokuta, Abuja, Ado-Ekiti, Aguata, Ajaokuta, Akure, Apapa, Asaba, Auchi, Awka, Bauchi, Benin, Bida, Birnin-Kebbi, Bonny, Bwari, Calabar, Calgary-Canada, Damaturu, Dutse, Egbin, Eket, Ekpoma, Eleme, Enugu, Epe, Glasgow, Giri, Gombe, Gusau, Houston, Ibadan, Ikeja, Ikot Abasi, Ikot Ekpene, Ile-Ife, Ilesha, Ilorin, Ilaro, Jalingo, Jos, Kabuga, Kaduna, Kafanchan, Katsina, Kano, Lafia, Lagos, Lekki-Peninsular, Lokoja, London, Maiduguri, Maitama, Manchester, Makurdi, Minna, Mowe, New Bussa, Nnewi, Nsukka, Obajana, Offa, Ogbomoso, Omoku, Onitsha, Omu Aran, Oluyole, Orlu, Oron, Owerri, Osogbo, Ota, Okigwe, Oyo, Port Harcourt, Sapele, Saudi Arabia, Sokoto, Trans Amadi, Umuahia, Ughelli, Uyo, VI, Warri, Wudil, Yenagoa, Yerwa, Yola, Zaria and Ibeju-Lekki.

SECRETARIAT

The Nigerian Society of Engineers Secretariat is headed by the Executive Secretary who runs a management structure of three Directorates, namely: Corporate Services Directorate (CSD), Membership Services Directorate (MSD) and Professional Development Directorate (PDD). The three Directorates have Departments, Units and Specialised Desks under them for effective delivery of routine services and execution of Council policies.

ACTIVITIES

- PUBLICATIONS: The Society publishes a Quarterly magazine: "The Nigerian Engineer". Others include the Technical Transactions Journal, NSE Newsletter/e-Newsletter, Annual Conference and Seminar Proceedings, October Lecture Series, History of the NSE and some other ad hoc publications.
- WORKSHOPS/CONFERENCES: These are organized nationwide and coordinated by the National Secretariat, and are geared towards professional improvement and continuing education amongst members. One of the special events is the biennial October Lecture normally delivered by a Past President of the society. The Society holds an annual Conference based on a chosen theme at a predetermined venue and date. This is also a forum for Engineers to exchange ideas and update their knowledge on contemporary issues and future developments in Engineering. The week long event is rounded off with the Annual General Meeting/AGM during which officers are elected.
- ADVISORY SERVICES: NSE provides guidance to members on a wide range of matters relevant to their engineering practice. Government, Corporate Organizations and the general public may also seek advice of the Society on professional Engineering matters.
- BENEVOLENT FUND: The Society maintains a benevolent fund to which individual members contribute. The fund is to help members and their families, who are in distress.
- AWARDS AND PRIZES: Grants/Fellowship Awards and Prizes for papers, research and other contributions to the profession are awarded by the NSE from time to time, to those who distinguish themselves in the profession.
- COMPETITIONS: The Society sponsors and encourages competitions at various educational levels – from Secondary Schools through Universities to professional institutions.

CODE OF ETHICS

NSE has established a Code of Ethics to control the professional conduct of her members. Disciplinary actions are instituted under this code. The Society launched the "Campaign against Corruption in Engineering Projects (CACEP) in 1998, as part of its contribution in the fight against corruption which hinders rapid development of the country.

LIAISON WITH GOVERNMENT

The Society liaises with Government on matters affecting the Engineering profession and represents the profession on the boards of some government bodies/agencies. It maintains close relations with COREN in all issues relating to the profession. These include Engineering Regulation & Monitoring (ERM), Mandatory Continuing Professional Education (MCPE) and remuneration for Engineers.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Society represents Nigeria through her membership of the Commonwealth Engineers Council (CEC) and the World Federation of Engineering Organizations (WFEO). NSE is also a member and houses the Secretariat of Federation of African Engineering Organizations (FAEO).

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME ADDRESS

Distinguished Ladies and Gentlemen, it is with immense pleasure, a profound sense of national responsibility and great pride in our profession that I welcome you to "Maiduguri 2026". We are gathered here at a defining moment in our nation's journey, a moment that calls for courage, competence, innovation and collective action. Let me state this unequivocally, there can be no enduring socio-economic development without security.

Security is the foundation upon which economic prosperity, industrial growth, investment, infrastructure development, social stability and national progress are built. For Nigeria to realise its full potential, security must be assured across the entire country: from our rural communities and villages to our towns and metropolitan cities; and from our critical infrastructure to the digital and technological spaces that increasingly define modern society.

Over the years, governments, institutions, professionals, development partners and the international community have advanced various perspectives and interventions aimed at addressing the challenge of insecurity. Yet, the persistence and complexity of this challenge demand that we continue to think differently, act decisively and deepen collaboration.

For too long, our people have borne the consequences of insecurity. Communities have suffered negative disruptions. Livelihoods have been threatened. Businesses and investments have been affected. Infrastructure has been exposed to destruction and vandalism and the confidence required for sustainable development has, in many instances, been undermined. This is a challenge that Nigeria must confront with determination and the engineering profession cannot stand at a distance from this national imperative.

At the heart of engineering is the responsibility to solve problems. Our response must encompass innovative technologies, resilient infrastructure, intelligent transportation systems, secure communications, emergency response systems, surveillance and monitoring technologies, data-driven planning, critical infrastructure protection and other appropriate engineering solutions.

However, technology alone will not solve every dimension of the challenge. The answer lies in collaborations. It lies in bringing together government, the security and defence institutions, engineers, industry players, the academia, technology innovators, communities and international partners. It is our collective responsibility to help build a Nigeria that is safer, more resilient, more technologically capable and better prepared to confront the challenges of the future. That is precisely why the Nigerian Society of Engineers has convened this 2026 International Engineering Conference and Annual General Meeting in Maiduguri.

I welcome you all, once again.
